

MAKING OF ANILINE DYES HERE URGED

Shortage of Supply From Germany Shown in Daily Commerce Reports.

KEPT BACK BY EMBARGO

The dyestuff situation in the United States is again the subject of an article in the Daily Commerce Reports (issue of May 17). The writer, Commercial Agent Thomas H. Norton, finds that the scarcity of artificial dyestuffs is being felt more and more acutely each day throughout the country; many brands of pigments have disappeared from the market and no shipments from Germany have entered American ports since March 19. The agent figures that the stock of dyes of German origin in this country probably will disappear before the end of July.

Meanwhile the German Government has not yet consented to the export of two shipments of dyestuffs, for the passage of which permission was given by the British Government on April 14.

"An ample stock of coal tar dyes, ready for export to the United States, is held by the German manufacturing firms," the report says. "It awaits the opportunity and assurance of safe transportation. The State Department in Washington is continuing its efforts to bring about the necessary understanding for the export of these dyes. The agent, however, finds little prospect of this among importers and consumers that 'any material change in the embargo on the exportation of German dyes will take place during the remainder of the current year.'"

With every week of the continuance of the German embargo the report finds that there has been "a steady growth in the feeling throughout wide circles that the time is ripe for our American coal tar chemical industry to expand from its present modest proportions to a position where it can become the dominant factor in meeting the needs of sister industries. A review of what is being done shows clearly that the foundations are being laid for the permanent evolution, along natural and healthful lines, of a distinctly American color industry, using American raw material and meeting the bulk of American needs."

At another point in the report the agent says: "An ample supply of American coal tar dyes is assured for the prospective needs of dyestuff manufacturers. The American manufacture of aniline and other coal tar intermediates from American crudes has been started on a generous scale by all existing dyestuff works and by five new plants specially devoted to this field. Several other works are in process of erection or in contemplation. This industry can supply only a small share of the American demand for the current year, but is susceptible of steady and relatively rapid expansion."

Speaking of the situation of the present stock was no near exhaustion that industrial concerns dependent on dyestuffs are beginning to close down and that these industries will be practically paralyzed in the near future unless they turn their attention from their regular products to products not using dyes. Mr. Norton does not expect the German embargo on dyestuffs will be removed until definite assurance is obtained from Great Britain that the shipments will be allowed to proceed to the United States and will not be taken over for the use of British textile manufacturers.

RIDDER'S COMPANY IN ADVISES WALKING TO SPEED UP POLICEMEN

Trust Company Sues to Foreclose on Typetting Machine Concern.

In addition to other financial difficulties brought on by the European war, the International Typetting Machine Company was made the defendant in a suit filed in the United States District Court yesterday to foreclose a $100,000 mortgage on the company's property, including some of its valuable patent rights, its real estate and stocks and bonds.

The Guaranty Trust Company of New York, holder of the mortgage securing an issue of 6 per cent. gold bonds on which $30,000 in interest has been unpaid since January 5.

The International Typetting Machine Company, manufacturers and sells a typetting machine known as the "Inter-type." Herman Ridder is president; Joseph E. Ridder, vice-president; Victor E. Ridder, secretary, and Bernard H. Ridder, one of the directors.

In a recent suit in equity the concern was placed in the hands of a receiver. The company made no opposition to the appointment of the receiver. The receiver, in a statement, declared that it was not insolvent, but that it had been confronted with a delicate financial predicament by reason of the European war's effect on the market for intertype machines and the condition of the money market, also due to hostilities abroad. European customers who had advanced paid in cash, it is said, were buying machines, but deferring payments, which impaired the company's working capital.

The company's assets, it is stated, would be settled under the administration of the receiver, Erskine Hewitt. It made no opposition yesterday to the appointment of Mr. Hewitt as receiver in the foreclosure suit under an additional bond of $50,000. He is to continue the administration of the business.

The mortgage involved in the litigation was made on March 18, 1912, and was redeemable on January 1, 1913.

WRECKED BY DRUG HABIT.

Doctor Who Says He is a Harvard Man Sent to the Island.

Alfred J. Boyle, 45, who said he was a graduate of Harvard and had been a practicing physician in Boston, was sentenced to a year in the workhouse and to pay a fine of $100 for selling morphine in Special Sessions yesterday for having morphine in his possession. He was sent to the workhouse at his own request, as he said, because he was cured of the drug habit.

Detectives went to his room at 244 West Thirty-eighth street on May 7 and found several grains of morphine and several hypodermic needles. The prohibition officer read Boyle's criminal record, which revealed ten convictions for petty larceny since 1907.

"If you'll notice," Boyle told the Justice, "you'll find that it shows only small crimes, to which I was driven in order to get money to satisfy my craving for the drug. For eighteen years I've been a victim of the morphine habit. Until twelve years ago I had my own practice in Boston, with a private sanitarium in New Bedford. When I took to drugs I gradually lost everything."

George Adams, 35, who was arrested in Boyle's room, was sentenced to the workhouse for six months for possessing opium. John Sheehan, 24, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for having heroin.

CHINA EAGER TO BUY GOODS IN AMERICA

U. S. Only Friend of New Republic, Say Merchants Touring Country.

VISIT NEW YORK JUNE 1

WASHINGTON, May 18.—"China never needed a friend so badly as she does now, and the only real friend China has in the whole world is the United States," is a statement made by Cheng-Hsun Chang, chairman of the commission of Chinese merchants, in the May issue of the Nation's Business, the official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. This Chinese business man, now in his seventy-fifth year, who has had experience in every part of China in all sorts of enterprises and is worth, it is estimated, about $25,000,000, advocates the starting of several new lines of steamships between China and the United States.

He is one of fifteen business men now touring this country upon the invitation of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific in return for a visit paid by American commercial bodies five years ago. Other members of the party expressed themselves along the same line as Cheng-Hsun Chang.

"We recognize that China is dependent on America for complete and rapid development," said David Z. T. Yui, executive secretary for the delegation, "and we are willing to acknowledge our dependence."

The vice-chairman of the commission, Chi Che Nieh, pointed out various ways in which the trade between the United States and China might be increased. He urged American business men to cooperate with the Chinese to achieve this result.

"Of all the imports into China from the outside world," the vice-chairman went on, "that of cotton and manufactured goods is the largest. This reaches the astounding total of $100,000,000 annually. Yet of this amount only about $10,000,000 is sent directly from the United States to China. The remaining $90,000,000 is paid for manufactured goods sent directly from Europe, Great Britain and Japan."

"We Chinese and you Americans should have direct trade with each other and divide the profit. There is no reason for dealing through other nations. It is more and more the modern tendency to travel over the shortest and most direct route in business, and China wants to be modern with America."

The Chinese commercial delegation will travel all over the United States. The trip began in San Francisco and the itinerary after to-day is as follows:

Chicago, May 28; Baltimore, May 29; Philadelphia, May 30; New York, June 1; Providence, June 2; Boston, June 3; Springfield, June 4; Schenectady, June 5; Buffalo, June 6; Cleveland, June 7; St. Paul, June 8; Duluth, June 9; Spokane, June 10; Seattle, June 11; Portland, June 12; San Francisco, June 13.

The commission will sail for home on July 2. The party is made up of bankers, silk and tea merchants and railroad men, each having a special trade in the interest of which he is desirous of the Chinese primarily to study our resources with a view to stimulating trade relations between China and the United States.

These things are essentials and are much preferable to night lectures and other prevailing fads, he said, "but am opposed to kymys being inaugurated at public expense. Let policemen walk more, for it is the most healthful exercise I know."

"But these men have to be agile to rescue and arrest people," pleaded Commissioner Woods. "Only the other day a policeman let a man escape because he could not run fast enough."

"That might happen to Jerry Mahoney," retorted the Commissioner, pointing to the track runner of the police force, who was in the delegation.

A plan is to be submitted to the Commissioner by Mr. Page and Commissioner Woods for submission to the Board of Estimate.

MORE PARK VANDALS CAUGHT.

Youth Goes to Workhouse for Stirring Up Bears.

There was no letup yesterday in the police crusade against park vandals. Casimir Cuelo, an eighteen-year-old Polish youth, was arrested by Patrolman Richard Kirby for stirring up the bears, hyenas and wolves in the Central Park zoo with a long stick. Their antics amused him, he told the policeman. He was sent to the workhouse for ten days by Magistrate House in the Yorkville court.

A successful fishing party at the park conservatory lake, near Seventy-fourth street, was broken up by Patrolman Kirby, who pounced on a group of boys fishing with bent pins. All escaped but Hyman Goldberg, 16, of 60 East Ninety-eighth street. He had seven gold fish on a string. When the boy admitted to Magistrate House that he had been in the trout school and was then out on probation for throwing stones at the New Haven trains on Park avenue the Magistrate remanded him until Friday for sentence.

Madeline Hamilton, a nurse, of 110 East Seventy-eighth street, was fined $3 for throwing a newspaper on the grass.
